

Brother Mills

I am sending you my only copy of what Justin told me. Hang onto it make a copy for back up. Hold onto any copies till I get out.

Reading back over and listening to him. He may have underlying issues with older mother figures. Thinking about how he talked about his mother, grand mother and ex wife. He may not like mother figures very well. I have reason to believe he may have killed this lady before the fire was started. just my observation.

No one has mentioned anything to me nor have I seen any news about this case.

I would bet he did something to her before the fire. Just from his describing of what he did before the fire.

Paul Chives said his grand mother watched Justin move his kids and girlfriend out before the fire. She lives across from the place.

He still has that look on his face. Am I clear yet.

Hey Zack Young and his mom + Dad came up to see Justin while Jaime was there to see me. Zacks dad wouldn't stop staring at me and Jaime and was listening to her conversation with me. Needless to say we didn't discuss much.

So much for the church not knowing much.

Plus I am hoping Zack doesn't say a whole lot about me to Justin it could make my life in here interesting.

Have you heard my lawyer [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] We don't have facts yet. We just know he is not answering the phone.

So I may be changing lawyers again from the looks of things.

[REDACTED] Then I will ask him to Refund and step down then go for a public defender.

I believe if mom gets a hold of him he will wish he hadn't seen her.

So here I sit till I find out about the indictments.

Hold off giving my statement to the police. I want to see what's going on for a few days. I will write you or have somebody call you when I find out something. I just want it out of here before some one finds it.

Take Care hope to see you soon.

In Christ

Joe
